Dear Sirs;

Please be advised that I retired from the Louisiana Department of Transportation on March this year.

My position with the Department at departure was Real Estate Chief Appraiser. I functioned as Manager and Review Appraiser.

One of the projects I reviewed was a widening in New Orleans five to six years ago. Since my retirement I was contacted by a contract Attorney for the Department to testify via a deposition called by the property owner's Attorney in New Orleans.

My question is; do I have the right to charge fees for the time I spend either in preparation or testifying for the State on this or any other project that may require my input?

I respectfully request your comments on this matter as soon as you can.

Thank you,
